

Dear Primary Community Parents,

Welcome to the Primary Community. We are all looking forward to working with your child. I have planned many different activities for this which will serve to stimulate your child's development. In my classroom, I strive to create an atmosphere where the children feel comfortable in taking chances and taking risks, which is always a springboard for learning. My ultimate goal is to see your child reach his or her full potential.

I cannot do this alone. To be fully successful, students need not only support from their teachers, but from their parents or guardians as well. This means showing an interest in what they do in school, taking a few minutes to see how was their day and what they did. These actions show your child how highly you value education. It also shows them that teachers and parents are partners in their education.

Above all, please know that my door is always open. If you feel the need to speak to me concerning your child, please do not hesitate to contact me. Good communication between the school and the home is important. Anything that concerns you about your child could affect his or her ability to learn and therefore affects me as well. Once again, I welcome you and your child to the Primary Community!

Blessings,

The Primary Community Teachers
